Department of Demography, Faculty of Informatics and Statistics at the Prague University of Economics and Business is pleased to invite you to the International Scientific Conference RELIK 2022

REPRODUCTION OF HUMAN CAPITAL (MUTUAL LINKS AND CONNECTIONS)

The conference will take place on November 10-11, 2022 at the Prague University of Economics and Business.

RELIK 2022 is a scientific conference reflecting the theme of the reproduction of human capital from the view of demography, economics, social and economic policy, and other disciplines.

The conference is also open to young scientists.

If necessary, selected sections of the conference will take place online. Everything will be resolved regarding the current development of the COVID-19 pandemic and the regulations of the Government of the Czech Republic.

The conference proceedings with ISBN will be available online at <http://relik.vse.cz/en/>. The conference proceedings will be sent for indexing in Web of Science. Proceedings from 2017 to 2020 are already included in the Web of Science database.

Participants may register until September 11, 2022. For the registration, please visit the conference website relik.vse.cz/signup.

Abstracts (up to 10 lines) should be submitted until September 11, 2022. Full papers should be submitted until October 2, 2022.

Please use the paper template for writing your abstracts and papers. Instructions for authors and the paper template are available on the conference website <http://relik.vse.cz/en/instructions>. The official languages of the conference are Czech, Slovak, and English.

The registration fee is free of charge for all participants. We do not ensure accommodation for conference participants.
